Jaime Nolan, CAE Appointed Secretary/Treasurer for AMC Institute

Minneapolis, Minn — IntrinXec Management Inc., a Minneapolis-based association management company, announced that Jaime Nolan, CAE, president and founder, was appointed Secretary/Treasurer for the AMC Institute, the trade association representing the association management industry nationwide.

Nolan has served on the AMC Institute Board since 2006. "It is an honor to be selected by my colleagues to serve in a leadership capacity for our industry organization," said Nolan. "I look forward to working with the talented team on the Executive Committee and continuing the great success that my predecessors have accomplished at the Institute."

Nolan's officer position became effective August 1, 2009. The Secretary/Treasurer position succeeds to the next officer position with anticipated presidency in 2012.

The AMC Institute is a nonprofit trade association dedicated to promoting excellence among Association Management Companies worldwide. AMCs are professional service firms that provide leadership in association management and other association services through experienced staff, proven practices and shared resources. AMCs provide full-service association management and specialized professional services to organizations including business and trade associations, professional societies and foundations.
